What's inside

- This file - avatar, angles, compliance note, and recommended bonus stack
- swipes.md - emails, social posts, and bonus-page copy (finance-niche specific)

The finance buyer avatar (pre-filled)

- Who: people who feel behind financially, want control of their money, or want to start investing/earning more.
- They want: security, control, to stop living paycheck-to-paycheck, to build wealth.
- They fear: losing money, complexity, being "bad with money," scams, being too late.
- Already tried: budgeting apps they abandoned, intimidating investing info.
- Their words: "I'm bad with money," "investing is confusing," "I don't earn enough to save," "is it too late for me?"
- Buying triggers: simplicity, a clear first step, relatability, education over hype, low risk.

Top angles (pre-built)

1. Simplicity: "Personal finance made simple - no jargon."
2. Control: "Finally take control of your money."
3. Beginner-safe: "Start investing/saving even if you feel behind."
4. Education over hype: "Learn the fundamentals (not get-rich nonsense)."
5. Small-steps: "Start with what you have, today."

Recommended bonus stack (from the vault + finance-appropriate)

The vault is marketing-focused, so for finance offers create educational bonuses (use Product 1 prompts, then fact-check) such as:

- A "Simple Budget Template" (adapt Product 24's tracker style)
- A "Beginner's Money Checklist"
- A "Financial Goals Planner"
- #2 Bonus Page Kit - deliver the stack

Keep bonuses to general planners/education unless you're qualified to advise. Let the product teach specifics.

Best traffic

- Relatable short-form (money tips, myths) - Products 15, 50 (X is strong for finance).
- Pinterest (budget templates, money tips rank well) - Product 18.
- Story-driven email (Product 37) - finance is emotional.

2. Drop [PRODUCT]/[LINK] into the swipes.
3. Create educational bonuses + a bonus page (Product 2).
